CS150 - Lab Prep 8
Design
Due: Wednesday April 9, at the beginning of class

matplotlib

We will be using `matplotlib` for the lab this Wednesday. If you plan on working on your own computer, you'll need to install `matplotlib` before lab. In the "Resources" section of the course web page, I've put information on how to install `matplotlib`. Follow these instructions and then try out some of the simple examples from class on Monday to make sure it is installed properly.

If you have troubles with installing `matplotlib` please come see Colby or myself.

Optional: Read through the lab handout
